

Vote Climate U.S. PAC House Party Invitation - Follow-up Script

Please make follow-up calls 1-2 weeks prior to the house party, to all the people you have invited, who have not RSVP'ed. It's best to call Sunday through Thursday evenings between 7-9pm. Email or text message those you do not reach by phone.

Hi [invitee's first name], I'm calling to follow-up on an invitation I sent you to a house party to benefit Vote Climate U.S. PAC. They work to elect candidates to get off fossil fuels and put a price on carbon, in order to slow climate change and related weather extremes.

I'm hosting this house party because [State your personal reasons for hosting a house party and why you care about climate change.] We will have a speaker give a fascinating, hopeful presentation about climate change and tell us what we can do to help. We are trying to educate people about Vote Climate U.S. PAC, our national Voter's Guide, recruit members and volunteers and raise funds for the organization. Did you receive the invitation?

If Yes: Great. Can I count on you to attend? [Wait for their response.]

If Yes: OK that's [Give date, time and address.] Since we will be asking for donations, please remember to bring your checkbook. [If you don't remind them, people who would otherwise donate, will show-up without their checkbooks.] Thank you.

If No: Would you consider making a donation to the organization?

If Yes: Please go to their website at voteclimatepac.org and make a secure, online donation. Thank you.

If No: The house party is scheduled for [Give date, time and address.] Can I count on you to attend? [Wait for their response.]

If Yes: OK, I look forward to seeing you then. Since we will be asking for donations, please remember to bring your checkbook. [If you don't remind them, people who would otherwise donate, will show-up without their checkbooks.] Thank you.

If No: Would you consider making a donation to the organization?

If Yes: Please go to their website at voteclimatepac.org and make a secure, online donation. Thank you.

Authorized by Vote Climate U.S. PAC, Mary Gill Treasurer, and not authorized by any candidate or candidate's committee.